Local Hotel List

This list is by no means exhaustive. The inclusion of any hotel does not imply any official recommendation. Evening meals are available at all hotels listed.

For delegates that are not familiar with the Harwell Laboratory campus where UKHSA is located, it is a rural location some five miles from the nearest town.

While buses provide connectivity with surrounding towns and Oxford city during weekday office hours, services are reduced at other times such as evenings and weekends.

It may also be useful to note there are no suitable accommodation or evening dining options within walking distance of site.
