Meeting the Need for
'The Qualified Person'

---

What is the Role of the Sponsor?

---

Wednesday 30 March 2011
Cheshunt

Two FREE seminars for the Pharmaceutical Industry.

This represents a unique opportunity to learn about the role of the Qualified Person (QP) and Sponsor.

- Becoming a QP
- What makes a 'good' QP
- Opportunities for the QP
- Requirements and expectations for QP Sponsors

Qualified Persons

RSSL is a renowned provider of training services to the pharmaceutical industry, with a passionate emphasis on offering world class subject matter expertise alongside a great delegate experience. Our flagship Qualified Persons programme exemplifies this, becoming increasingly popular due to its flexibility, cost effectiveness and restricted group size.

On 30 March we will be hosting two sessions to examine the benefits of training to become a Qualified Person (QP), and the role of the Sponsor.

- Are you an individual trying to decide whether to make this important career move?
- Are you a manager wanting to ensure that newly qualified personnel have the sound judgement required to make those important business decisions when releasing your product to the market?

If you have answered 'Yes' to either of these questions, there will be something here to help you decide the best way forward. During and after lunch you will have the opportunity to meet fellow industry professionals and discuss the challenges that QPs face in today's climate.

- Have you been asked to be a Sponsor?

All aspiring QPs require a sponsor. The role of the sponsor is important in the QP's training and application for submission to the register. The Sponsor should act as a mentor and support the QP throughout the training process. Our second session will look at what the role of the 'Sponsor' is and will provide practical guidance to assist both the Sponsor and QP.
