

Guanidinium-biphenyldisulfonic acid (GBPS) were used as a coformer for the co-crystallization of liquid compounds 1-8 and get their structures determined by single crystal X-ray diffraction.