

Supplementary Information

Poly(2-methoxyethyl acrylate)-grafted microfiltration membranes exhibiting low-fouling properties in the presence of salt species

Kazuki Akamatsu^{1,*}, Masamune Sano¹, Fumio Okada¹, Shin-ichi Nakao¹, Xiao-lin Wang^{1,2}

¹ Department of Environmental Chemistry and Chemical Engineering, School of Advanced Engineering, Kogakuin University, 2665-1 Nakano-machi, Hachioji-shi, Tokyo 192-0015, Japan

² Department of Chemical Engineering, Tsinghua University, Beijing 100084, People's Republic of China.

Corresponding author

Kazuki Akamatsu

E-mail: akamatsu@cc.kogakuin.ac.jp

Tel: +81-42-628-4584, Fax: +81-42-628-4542

<http://orcid.org/0000-0002-2865-1580>

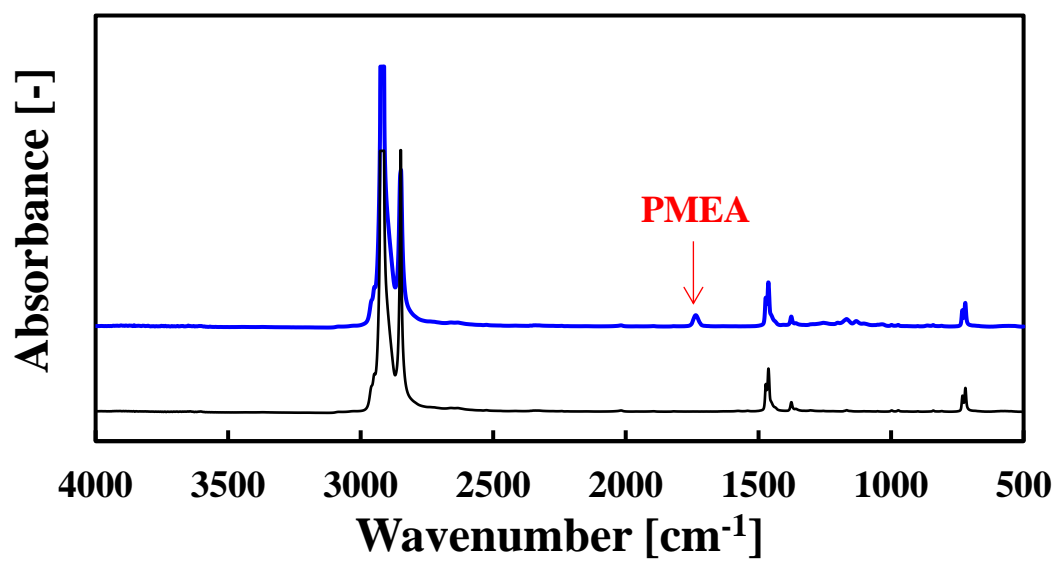

Figure S1. FT-IR spectra of unmodified (black) and modified membranes with a grafting amount of 0.12 mg cm⁻² (blue), which were analyzed by the transmission method.