

Supporting Information

Structure, Ordering, and Surfaces of Pt-Fe Alloy Catalytic Nanoparticles from Quantitative Electron Microscopy and X-ray Diffraction

Mickey C.Y. Chan,^a Liang Chen,^b Feihong Nan,^a James F. Britten,^c Christina Bock^b and Gianluigi A. Botton^{*a}

^a Department of Materials Science and Engineering, McMaster University, 1280 Main Street West, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, L8S4L8 Tel: 905 525 9140; E-mail: gbotton@mcmaster.ca

^b Energy and Mining Portfolio, National Research Council of Canada, 1200 Montreal Road, Ottawa Ontario, Canada, K1A0R6

^c Department of Chemistry, McMaster University, 1280 Main Street West, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, L8S4L8

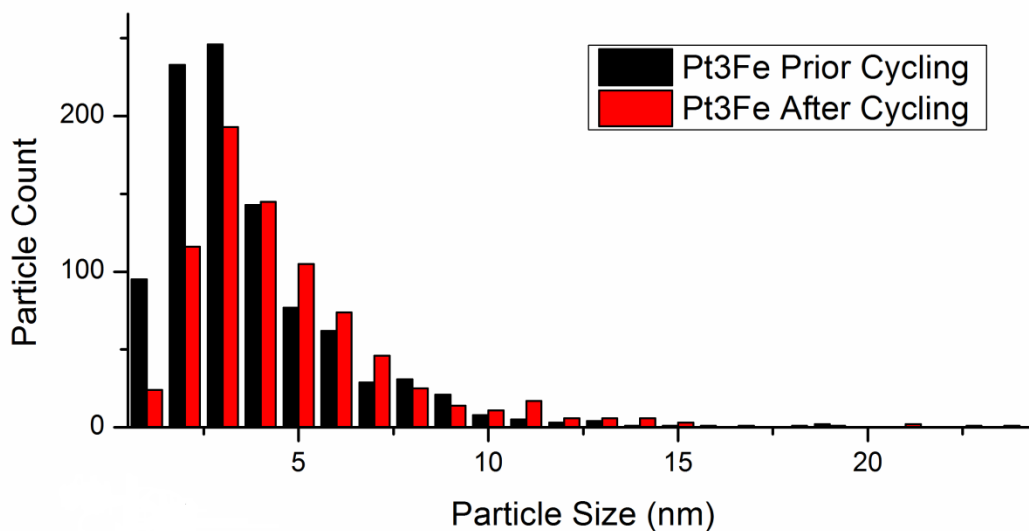

Fig. S1. Particle size distribution of Pt₃Fe before and after electrochemical cycling

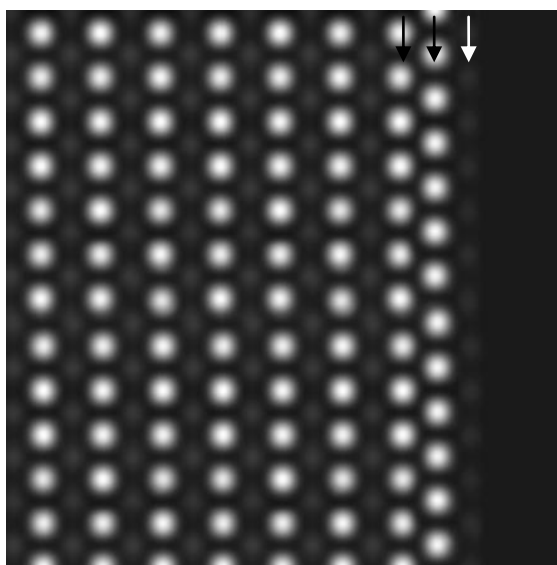

Fig. S2. HAADF multi-slice simulation of Pt₃Fe with a Fe only outer layer (indicated by the white arrow) followed by two layers of Pt only layers (indicated by the black arrows).